July 2010 – Until further notice, the law offices of JONES FERRADINO will be undergoing a façade reconstruction. As such, our main entrance and front parking lot will not be available for use.

Clients and visitors are asked to park behind the building by following the driveway to the left of the building. Further, the main entrance has temporarily been re-located to the back of the building until construction has been completed.

Construction is expected to be completed by the end of August.
